

FRIDAY EVENING, MAR. 8, 1895.

THE NEGROES of New York, who, almost to a man, voted the republican ticket at the last election there, or now say they did, are very angry with, and are loudly denouncing Mr. Strong, the republican mayor, whom their ballots helped to elect, because he, like General Mahone, but unlike President Cleveland, believe it is not yet time to put negroes in prominent positions, and only gives them messengers' and laborers' places. Northern republicans think, or at least say they do, that negroes are good enough to hold important and responsible offices in the South, but the idea of bestowing such offices upon them in the North never seems to enter their heads. With them, nary letters. it should be a mixed government in the South, but a white man's government in the North.

IF SOUTHERN delegates to national republican conventions were fair representatives of the feeling of the white people of the States of their section, Mr. Picca's opposition to the bill to reimburse Washington-Lee College for the damage done it by the federal army during the war between the States, would prevent him from getting a single vote in the next one, but as they are not, every one of them will that part of his address relating to the probably vote for him.

A PATENT illustration of what has become almost an American characteristic is now on exhibition in the U.S. Supreme Court. Ex-Senator Edmunds, when a member of the U.S. Senate advocated the passage a bill that imposed an income tax, upon constitutional grounds, but now, as the paid attorney of men trying to evade the payment of tat tax, he stands up in the highest their number to the total among court of the land and asserts that that Justice Brown had asked yesterday if tax is unconstitutional.

THE Taylor-Chase case having set the pace of criminal libel prosecutions in Washington at the sole cost of the government, Mr. Dana, of the New York Sun, has been indicted there and, according to the decision in that case, will not only have to prove every charge he has made against the prosecutor, but also, that he brought them for the public good. Criminal libel cases will now be frequent there.

THE Constitution says the President shall, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint the officers of the United States. But the President must labor under the false impression that he is above the Constitution, as he has just appointed to office a man, not only against the advice and consent of the Senate, but whose nomi- ality of the law. Quoting the provisnation it had emphatically rejected.

Some of the Washington newspapers are now clamoring for the removal and punishment of a policeman of that city who shot a negro desperado who resisted arrest and assaulted him, and was running away so as to escape jail and continue his robberies and assaults. Of all the cities in the world none would be more benefited by a whipping post than the national capital.

IT APPEARS that the secretary of the American Missionary Society thought his family and himself had more need of a fine house and horses and carriages than foreign heathen had of the gospel, as he supplied that need out of the missionary fund. The heathen can walk, but the secretary of the society referred to must ride behind thoroughbred trotting borses.

THE New York State Senate day before yesterday passed the bill to re-establish the whipping post in that State. If the Assembly shall have sense enough to concur, the manners. morals and treasury of New York will all be greatly benefited.

THE REFUSAL of Congress to pay the award in the Behring's Sea case places the State Department in an embarrassing position, as it was its proposition that England accepted. Indeed, the refusal was an infraction of the treaty between the two countries. OF ALL the beneficiaries of the sugar bounty, the maple sugar makers of the New England States are the greatest, as they, unlike the cane sugar makers

The continuation of the argument in the income tax cases before the Suprome Court of the United States today was marked by the presence of a crowd of spectators that thronged the chamber to almost the full limit of its accommodations. There was a liberal sprinkling of members of the bar with in the rail, including several members and ex-members of Congress. Mr. Guthrie continued his argument against the law. He had reached yesterday effect of the fifth amendment to the constitution and he said that he might well refrain from pressing his argument on that point in view of the admission of the attorney-general in his brief that the fifth amendment does require uniformity in the imposition of taxs. you think the requirement still in force since the adoption of the 14th amendment ?" asked Justice Gray. Congress did not have the power to exempt the property of religious, charitable and educational institutions, and Mr. Guthrie had responded that counsel were not pressing that point in argument—they had no objection to urge to such exceptions. Discussing this point further to-day, he said they seriously doubted the power of Congress to exempt these institutions They are State institutions. Mr. Guthrie asserted that Congress could not select one class of corporations in the States for taxation and exempt others from the same tax. Neither could it tax the naked franchise the right to do business, which the S ates grant to their citizens. In concluding Mr. Guthrie said that

THE TOTAL APPROPRIATIONS. The official statement as to the total appropriations of the last session of Congress have not yet been prepared, and none will be given out until the close of the present week, when they they will be put forth by Chairman Sayers, of the House committee on appropriations, and by Rep. Can non, with comments in the interests of the democratic and republican parties, respectively. The total will not be far from $496,000,000 for the entire session, and, assuming this figure to be correct the total appropriations for 1895 and 1896 combined would be $988,230,685, that for 1895 being $492,230,685. The estimates of the Treasury Department as to the requirements of the various departments made at the beginning of the session placed the total at $497,342,- 000. 486 It will be seen that the appropriations in the total come very near the mark set by the Treasury Department, though the moneys are not distributed in the way indicated as most desirable. When these estimates of money for expenditure were sent in they were accompanied by another estimate placing he probable revenue for 1896 at $476, 907,407. If this estimate should prove to be correct there would be a deficiency of about $19,000,000. Later estimaies have, however, increased the figures on the revenue for next year. Representative Cannon claims a large increase in appropriations by the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses over those of the Fifty first Congress, when the republicans were in power and Mr. Cannon was at the head of the House appropriations committee. PEASANTS OPENED THE DYKE .- A dispatch from Buda Pest says the Temesvar district has been threatened for several days with floods from the swollen waterways. The peasants held meetings to consider means of saving and throws the dirt in the street? their crops and decided eventually to cut the dykes of the Bega canal, thus giving vent into the territory of a royal Dutch company which owns much land and thousands of cattle in the district. The company was forewarned. It posted a force of its employees at the and sidewalks? point where the peasants planned to open the dyke and instructed them to drive off everybody attempting to approach the canal. The peasants attacked the employees with scythes and clubs, dispersed them after a hot fight and cut a deep ditch through the canal bank. They were obliged to flee for their lives when the water burst out. Thousands of acres were under water within a few hours. Some 7,500 of the company's pigs were drowned and 10,000 head of cattle are in imminent danger. The company claims heavy damages from the government. The ministers of the interior and agriculture will investigate the matter.
